

Trainee program Purchase Junior

Bufab is trading company that offers its customers a fullservice solution for sourcing quality control and logistics for C-Parts.

We are looking for talents for the Trainee program Purchase Junior.

The Bufab Trainee program is tailor-made for new graduates and the program is based on a genuine need within the company and we can therefore offer challenging positions after the end of the program. The Program is aimed at building your competence across engineering projects, sales process and marketing.

You also need to be flexible; the global nature of our operations may involve relocating in the future. The Bufab group language is English, which you should speak and write fluently.

Additional language skills are valued, especially as we continue to grow into new markets.

Requirements:

- A master's degree in engineering
- A willingness to experience working abroad and the ability to work in a multicultural environment
- Excellent knowledge of English and the language of the position you are applying to
- Driving licence
- Ability to deal with practical problems and respond to individual customer requirements
- Entrepreneurial
- Strong self-initiative
- Teamplayer
- Flexible;
- To understand our customer's needs and find creative solutions to them

What we offer:

- Competitive salary, motivational bonus and wide range of benefits
- Challenging tasks where you are fully integrated into the team, tasks including sales, supply chain, project management and much more.

We start the program on the 15th of September and the main part will take place in Värnamo, Sweden, at our headquarter.